A Strange Case of Love and Jealousy.

A remarkable case of love and jealousy has recently culminated at Suffield, Conn., in a mysterious disappearance. The wife of a well-known cigar manufacturer in that town formed a warm attachment, last year, for a singing-master, who led the choir in the Congregational Church, where she was the principal singer. The two were very intimate, and there was considerable gossip in consequence, though it is not known that their intimacy reached unlawful limits. This year the chorister was employed by the Baptist Church, his friend remaining in her former position. He was polite and attentive to the ladies in his new choir, and soon roused the jealous feeling of jealousy in the cigar manufacturer's wife. She sent him a large number of anonymous letters in feigned hands, threatening him with all sorts of things, if he didn't cease his attentions to the Baptist girls. The matter reached a crisis on Friday of last week, when the chorister fixed upon her the authorship of the letters and in turn threatened a public exposé, and demanded satisfaction. On the same afternoon, while her husband was absent, the lady went to Keener, telling him he would never see her again, and suddenly departed. She was traced nearly half a mile to a swamp, and on Sunday the whole town was in search of her. Every possible means was used to ascertain her fate, but wholly without result, nor has she been heard from since. The affair, as may be imagined, has created a profound sensation in Suffield. The lady was good-looking, accomplished, about thirty years old, and the mother of one child.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

Red Cloud, the Indian Leader.

Speaking of the forthcoming war on the plains, the Reese River Reveille says:

The great leader of the Indians is Red Cloud, or Mahpiohiya Luta, represented as one of the ablest Indian warriors of any time. He is about thirty-five years of age, tall, handsome, athletic, and perfect in his horsemanship as in his physical appearance. He has commanded in several battles previous to the massacre of Colonel Fetterman's command, and has never been whipped. He was at Laramie last spring, at the treaty making, enjoying the farce and treating it as such without disguise, yet accepting all the presents offered, but left with the declaration that his country should never be occupied by the whites, nor garrisoned by them, nor should their roads cross it. Then he was at the head of but 300 warriors of the Ogalalah Sioux, but his marshaling 3,000 at Fort Philip Kearney shows the influence he has over others, and his determination to make his threat good. He is an active, energetic and able warrior, and he who conquers Red Cloud will do more than he who conquered Tecumseh, or Black Hawk, or Cascola.

EATING WHILE FATIGUED.—There are very few habits more injurious to health than eating when the body is fatigued. If the brain or any part or organ of the body becomes unduly fatigued, the whole system required rest, until the nervous influence and the circulation of the blood are equalized throughout the body, before another demand is made upon the vital energies. If the stomach is filled without this rest, the food remains undigested, ferments and becomes sour, and irritates the stomach, producing disease of the digestive organs, and through them, of the whole system.

CONDENSED NEWS.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

—The Booth diary is published. It is simply a defense of his action. He says, under date of April 13th and 14th: "Until to-day nothing was ever thought of sacrificing to our country's wrong. For six months we had worked to capture, but our cause being almost lost, something decisive and great must be done. But its failing was owing to others, who did not strike for their country with a heart. I struck boldly, and not as the papers say. I walked with a firm step through a thousand of his friends, and was stopped, but pushed on. A Colonel was first to fire. In jumping I broke my leg. I passed all his pickets, and rode sixty miles that night with the bone of my leg lacerating the flesh at every jump. I can never repent it, though we hated to kill. Our country owed all her troubles to him, and God simply made me the instrument of his punishment. The country is not, in April, 1865, what it was. This forced Union is not what I have loved. I care not what becomes of me. I have no desire to outlive my country. This night, before the deed, I wrote a long article and left it for one of the editors of the National Intelligencer, in which I set fully forth our reasons for our proceeding."

—Late Mexican advices state that immediately after the receipt of Secretary Seward's latter, Juarez issued orders in reference to the treatment of Maximilian, saying that his life should be spared. An Imperial reconnoitering party, including one of Maximilian's Adjutants, had been captured and shot.

FROM NEW YORK.

General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 20, 1867.

This Synod met on Monday morning at ten o'clock, and spent half an hour in devotional exercises. The subject discussed was, "How may those who walk with God keep themselves unspotted from the world?"

Rev. J. N. McLeod, D. D., presented a letter from Robert Murray, Esq., United States Marshal for the Southern District of New York, enclosing a check for $250, to be appropriated towards defraying the travelling expenses of the delegates to the Synod. The letter contained expressions of the highest regard for the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church. On motion, the thanks of the Synod were returned to Marshal Murray for the substantial expression of his regard.

The Committee on the "Signs of the Times" presented their report. The grounds of thanksgiving: A healthful and productive season; many important and equitable laws were enacted by the Thirty-ninth Congress "in spite of Executive influence;" the South is free, the slave has become a citizen, and the ballot, "the freeman's weapon, is being placed in his hand; God in His Providence is vindicating the principles for which the church has so long contended. The reasons of fasting are: The condition of the church; the great principles of religion are not maintained and defended as they should; the church is not fulfilling the mission and money needed to do the work of the Master; society is corrupt, profanity abounds; the Holy Sabbath is dishonored by idleness, running of cars and steamboats; intoxicating liquors are manufactured, sold and used in large quantities; human life is wantonly disregarded, and property is insecure.

Rev. S. J. Wilson, D. D., delegate from the Old School General Assembly, addressed the Synod at some length. He spoke with great earnestness the importance of organic union among the different Presbyterian bodies. The action of the General Assembly by Dr. Wilson were cordially reciprocated by Synod in a formal resolution.

The question of allowing lawyers to plead in church courts, was then taken up.

Resolved, That no Lawyer shall be permitted to plead in any court under the care of Synod, only as a member of said court.

Rev. J. R. W. Sloane, delegate from the Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Synod, known as the Old Side Covenanters, was then introduced and expressed the cordial greetings of the body which had delegated him for the Court. He said that the feelings of opposition and animosity that may have existed between the bodies shall soon have no existence. At the close of Mr. Sloane's address the usual formalities were observed, and a mutual reciprocation of regard expressed.

Adjourned to three o'clock in the afternoon.

FROM CINCINNATI.

Old School Presbyterian Assembly—Distinguished Strangers in the Pulpit on Sunday—Cincinnati Church—Sabbath Desecration.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, May 20, 1867.

Notwithstanding several showers of rain fell yesterday, most of the churches in the city were well filled. People were anxious to hear distinguished strangers. It fell to our lot to spend the forenoon on Mount Auburn, worshiping with a very pleasant little congregation. This Mount Auburn, by the way, is one of Cincinnati's suburban attractions. It lies a mile and a half to the north of the city; is elevated, and being rapidly and finely improved. It is a lovely place for private residences. Some of these already built are palatial. We returned to the city in the afternoon, and first attended a Sabbath School meeting in the Fifth Presbyterian Church, Rev J. B. Stewart, pastor. This meeting was thrillingly interesting. The singing of the School was a grand success, and the brief addresses delivered were timely, instructive, and some of them touchingly eloquent. Four hundred children perhaps were present.

At 4 p. m., we heard Rev Mr. Wells, of Scotland, on the subject of "City Missions." He had a large audience, most of the members of the General Assembly being present. Mr. Wells has for years been actively and successfully engaged in mission work, in the city of Glasgow. He therefore speaks what he knows and affirms what he has seen. His address was instructive; it gave what might be properly called the philosophy of City Mission, and its results, so far as they had come under the observation of the speaker. The philosophy we shall not attempt to report; the results only in part. The mission in Glasgow, of which Mr. Wells has charge, was commenced twelve years ago. It now has three churches and 2,400 communicants, most of whom have come from the poor and neglected classes. He related a number of instances of moral recovery, effected through the instrumentality of individual mission workers, which were affectingly interesting.

As a speaker, Mr. Wells is not impressive by any means. His voice is not deep toned, nor is it thin; it falls somewhere between the two. His utterance is very rapid and monotonous; he makes no pauses, has no emphasis, uses no illustrations, and ignores all metaphors. His fluency is remarkable; his words flow easily, and in a perpetual stream. Mr Wells is evidently a man of culture, and at home is highly appreciated. It is said, he has been invited to become the successor of the distinguished Dr. Guthrie.

In the evening we listened to Rev. Dr. Fairbairn, one of Scotland's most distinguished men. He is well known in this country by his writings. His text was—"The God of all consolation." The sermon was well constructed throughout, but not specially remarkable for originality, nor was its style peculiarly graceful. It abounded in illustration, and was usually chaste and always with a very appropriate and beautiful metaphor. Dr. Fairbairn's delivery is decidedly Scottish—many of his words have the Doric almost in their pronunciation. His voice excellent; deep toned and musical. His enunciation is somewhat rapid and at times quite emphatic. He did not, in this case in the pulpit, and acted as if embarrassed; shifted himself from foot to foot, up and down, and sideways, and fumbled nervously felt after the lapels of his coat.

That such a man should be embarrassed we can hardly conceive, and yet we know of no other solution for his pulpit action. The doctor is certainly a very able man—has a broad intellect, well developed and highly cultivated. He has a truly Catholic spirit, and a big Scotch soul overflowing with sympathy to man and love to God. He is a power on the earth for good.

At 9 o'clock this morning the Assembly met. The Committee on the Board of Publication made a report through the sky-eyed man, Rev. Dr. Rockwell. He also made, in explanation of the report, a most interesting and impressive address. The report followed by Rev. Dr. Schenck, Secretary of the Board. He made several important statements. There were about Tracts, of these three hundred and thirty are issued by the Board. Pastors can have gratuitously tracts for distribution. Secondly, the Sunday Publishes a Sunday School book, in which Christ and His religion are not found. Thirdly, the Sunday School Visitor is furnished below cost. Its subscription list increased during the last year 14,000. Lastly, one hundred and forty-five colporteurs have been employed during the year; have done much good. The contribution of the churches for colportage was $2,000 in advance of the past year.

The report before the Assembly commands two things; that the Sunday School books published by the Board shall in all cases be carefully examined before put in type, and ascertained to be in conformity with the doctrines and usages of the church; and that the Board shall publish only editions of small works for general circulation, especially on railroads, steamboats, &c. Touching this last matter, before the Board stated, that the Board had already published a number of such cheap editions, and made an effort on railroads but had been a failure, and must, he thinks, continue to be such as long as railroad corporations, where they have the right of the book selling on their cars at high rates.

Just here a most spirited discussion arose on the general subject of publishing and circulating the books of the Board of publication. Quite a variety of opinion was expressed. Some thought the books too dear, others that the catalogue thereof is deficient, and ought to be enlarged. A third party objected to the Board's failure to have the literature of the church circulated is largely chargeable upon the indifference of pastors. The discussion and expressed the opinion, that the example of activity as furnished by other churches, especially the Methodist Episcopal, ought to be imitated.

The report as it came from the Committee, with some slight amendments, was finally adopted.

Tots may be as good a time as any to make some reference to the Churches of this city. Many of them are very fine indeed. The Cathedral is conspicuous. Its tower and steeple are faultless; these are its chief attraction. Opposite the Cathedral is what is called the Jewish temple. It presents a very imposing exterior—its architecture is unique—its surroundings are fine taste. Its interior is beautifully finished and richly furnished. It has an organ of great power. The building thus far has cost $250,000. It proposed to expend on it at least $40,000 more.

The Central Presbyterian Church, where the Assembly holds its sessions, is a large, strong, blue lime stone, and is a substantial and beautiful edifice. It has one serious fault—the basement story is partly above ground. Of other Presbyterian Churches, and those of various evangelical denominations, we might say many favorable things, but it is not necessary. The people of Cincinnati need not perish for lack of commodious places of worship.

We observed particularly what surprised us no little—groceries, meat shops, and drinking saloons open for business. This form of Sabbath desecration is too general, including. The city authorities either do not attempt, or are not able to prevent it. There is something wrong somewhere. Such palpable, bold-faced iniquity ought not to be allowed. Deference to a Jewish custom is no apology. Let the Jews keep holiday as Sabbath if they will, but let them not desecrate the Christian Sabbath—the one known and recognized in law.

Mississippi Injunction—The Grounds Upon which the Amended Bill was Refused, &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 21, 1867.

GRANT RETURNED.

General Grant has returned.

THE MISSISSIPPI INJUNCTION.

There seems to be no doubt that the Justices who denied the filing of the amended bill in the Mississippi case, did so on the ground that it had no relevancy to the original bill, and that it was not supported by proof that General Ord intended to seize the property of the State; and besides it was considered that if such a course should be pursued by General Ord, the remedy would be an application for an injunction, apart from the consideration connected with the reconstruction act.

American and British Competition for River Navigation, &c., &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—The steamer Tennison, fifty-three days from Hong Kong, has arrived.

The commercial news is unimportant. The British residents newspapers in the ports of China are exercised over the fact that the American firms, Augustin, Hard & Co, and Russell & Co., have been given a monopoly of river steam navigation, the first firm to have the controlling of all the steamers from Canton, and the latter of all the steamers from Shanghai. Appeals are made to the British pride to alter this state of things. It is admitted that the American style of boats cannot be competed with successfully in the former river. It is claimed the Yangtz water is deep, admitting screw steamers with cargo capacity, and the cheapness of running is exceeded by the American, which have walking beam engines.

The Fogler Confession—A Counter Statement from Rev. Wm Montgomery.

The "confession" of Robert Fogler, executed in Washington, last week, has created a great deal of sensation in that usually quiet borough. Many persons accept the statements of the poor wretch as perfectly reliable, and give it full credence, especially those portions incriminating others in the Dinsmore murder; but another party sit down the entire statement as an ingeniously wrought fabrication, concocted by the advisers of Fogler to injure and disgrace the Montgomerys. Political feeling enters, to some extent, into the discussion of the matter in Washington, although the confession is rejected by persons of both parties.

Hon. William Montgomery, the father of the boys, William, James and A. J., accused by Fogler of a knowledge of, or participation in the Dinsmore murder, has published a lengthy communication in the Washington Review, of this week, in which he goes into a minute detail of the history of the Fogler statement, to show its utter untruthfulness. Mr. Montgomery urges that the confession was the result of several hands, and was gotten up for the purpose of injuring any one who had taken part in bringing the unfortunate and guilty wretch who purports to be its author, whilst those who arrested, convicted and hanged him are made the subjects of special laudation. Mr. Montgomery says he is led by this means Fogler hoped to gain a pardon, and save his life. He charges Fogler with having basely betrayed him.

In regard to the statements in Fogler's confession of his son William's guilt, Mr. Montgomery says, before Fogler's confession's jury found no such evidence, and that after a protracted and zealously conducted trial, they rendered a verdict of discharge. On this point Mr. Montgomery says, in reference to the wholesale accusations in Fogler's confession, "I know my son that was being persecuted; it was myself. I was to be hunted down: what its the influence and power I had, were to be destroyed; all my children were to be disgraced, and their good names and hopes in life blasted." The confession, he alleges, is in contradiction of what Fogler had previously sworn to; it was not written or suggested by him, who was an illiterate man, also could not spell correctly the most common words. Mr. Montgomery demonstrates this by quoting legal phrases and terms used in the confession, that he was not to be acquainted with. He again asserts his belief that Fogler concealed the name of his principal accomplice in the assassination of Mr. Dinsmore, and implicated those in it in the hope of escaping from punishment by so doing.

Mr. Montgomery prints in his statement letters from parties named in Fogler's confession, denying the assertions of the latter in regard to them, and also a letter written to Fogler's statement that the Montgomery boys had proposed to him to rob their father, Mr. S., says that his three sons had access to every part of his house, and knew where his money was kept, and they could, if so disposed, any time have taken all the money he had in his house.

Mr. Montgomery concludes his statement by referring to the closing declaration of Fogler in which he says he forgives all those who perjured themselves on his trial, in the testimony they gave against him. "Yet," Mr. Montgomery says, "no false oath is made in the statement of those who perjured themselves on the trial." Why does not Fogler give the names of those who swore away his life away? This is a matter in which the whole community is interested. Yet their names are carefully withheld.

The publication of Mr. Montgomery's statement are—that the confession was composed or dictated by others, impelled thereto by personal motives, to shield himself and family; that the confession is totally unworthy of belief; and that the motive of Fogler in asserting such statements, was to secure by his own pardon by implicating those whom he supposed would exercise their influence to that end, in order to shield himself, and at the same time, he was obeying those personally hostile to Mr. Montgomery, and who were instrumental in getting the confession up.

—The Pottsville Standard of Saturday last relates the following.

"On Friday of last week a large boarding house at Mahonoy Plane, belonging to the Boston and Mahonoy Coal Company, which was built over a mine, suddenly sunk into the earth to a depth of seventy feet or more, by the caving in of the roof of the mine below. The occupants of the house saw the building sinking, and had time for their escape. The cavity in the earth is thirty or forty yards in diameter. The portion of the house has been reached by digging, and three hundred dollars in money and some of the furniture taken out through a hole made for the purpose. The building took fire from the upsetting of a stove, and it was found necessary to turn on a stream of water from the company's mains to save the remainder from the flames. Most of the furniture is badly broken, and the house is said to be a complete wreck."

—Dr. Boyd, a gentleman who honorably aided in the escape of slaves, was sentenced for this offense to fifty years in the House of the District of Columbia, but was pardoned by Mr. Lincoln after having served eighteen months of the term. When Dr. Boyd lately applied for registry in Washington, he was refused, on the ground that no one could be registered who had been convicted of an infamous offense." He appealed to the Supreme Court, and it has promptly upset this technically sound ruling. Judge Olin holds that the President's pardon restored Dr. Boyd to his political rights, and Judge Fisher that he has not committed an infamous crime.

—The Joint Committee on Ordnance appointed just a few days before the adjournment of the first session of the 39th Congress, will assemble next week for the purpose of investigating the many charges made against the head of the Bureau of the Ordnance Department. The members of the Committee are Messrs. Cameron, Drake, and Howard on the part of the Senate, and Schenck, Butler, and Logan on the House. There will be no mercy shown to West Point with such a committee.

Meeting of Allegheny Councils.

Last evening a special meeting of the Select and Common Councils of Allegheny was held in their respective chambers in City Building.

COMMON COUNCIL.

There were present Messrs. Cutler, Dunham, Drennan, Dill, Fankhauser, Hanna, Harper, Horn, Ingham, Kirkpatrick, Megraw, Moans, McDonald, McNeil, Slagle, Voeghtly, Windsor, and President George D. Riddle.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The President stated the object of the meeting to be to take action on the C. C. Smith horse transaction. It will be remembered that some time ago Mr. Smith traded two of the Grant fire engine horses for two others, and paid two hundred and fifty dollars bonus out of his own funds. As the city did not authorize the "trade" of its property, Mr. Smith's claim was refused. He brought suit for the amount, and hence the present meeting to consider the matter.

On motion of Mr. Ingham, the rules were suspended in order that other business might be transacted.

Mr. Kirkpatrick offered a remonstrance from the property owners of Monterey street against changing the grade on Jackson and Carroll streets, as the water from those thoroughfares will be turned into Monterey street, if the proposed grade be established. Read and referred to the Committee on Streets.

Mr. Dill offered the following resolution: Resolved, That the Councils request the Postmaster General to dispense with the Postoffice in the Fifth ward, and extend the free delivery system to that division of the city. Read and adopted.

Mr. Kirkpatrick offered a resolution instructing the Gas Lamp Committee to have erected on the corner of Jackson street and Shiebla's alley, a public lamp. Read and referred to Gas Lamp Committee.

Mr. Ingham moved that the resolution reported from the Select Council, having in view the compromise of the horse question, be laid on the table. Lost.

Mr. Hanna moved that Common Council non-concur with the action of the Select branch.

Mr. D. L. Smith felt that a compromise should be made, and that the case would certainly go against the city if carried into the Court. He reviewed the case in all its phases and candidly gave his opinion that the city would not get out at as small cost a that proposed by the compromise.

Mr. Megraw thought that the matter should not be compromised, but go to Court for judicial decision.

Mr. Hanna thought Mr. Smith should be permitted to "engineer" his case through in such manner as he saw fit. The Court was the proper place to settle the matter, not here, as precedent is necessary to guide Councils in future transactions. Mr. Smith's horses are in the stable subject to his order, and Councils

WEDNESDAY, MAY 22, 1867.

THERE is a strong concurrence of testimony as to the unprecedented breadth and promise of the wheat crop. The weather has been and is favorable for it; but not so well for corn. Still, there is abundant time yet for that unless, indeed, the coming autumn shall be cold and unpropitious, as the last was. In some places the fruit has suffered some. Nevertheless, the indications are pretty general for a bountiful yield.

THE BANKRUPT LAW will go into operation on the first day of June. Under it, imprisonment for debt ceases throughout all the States and Territories. By it all stay laws, preferences, voluntary agreements, and secret attachments are set aside. Five hundred dollars worth of household furniture, the wearing apparel of each family, and such other property as is by law exempted in the different States, can be held by debtors.

AT the last session of the Legislature a law was passed authorizing the Governor to appoint, without salary, a Visitor for Philanthropic Purposes, to the Prisons and Alms Houses of the Commonwealth. The appointment has been given to Mr. MAHLON. H. DICKINSON, of Philadelphia.

The Prison Discipline Society has long wanted authorized access to all the Prisons and Relief Houses in the State. This bill was passed to merit their wishes. The gentleman selected for Visitor has been and is connected with that Society.

THE Albany Evening Journal concedes that Mr. HORACE GREELEY "holds broad and philosophical views of abstract truth;" that he is "in sympathy with the most noble ideas and principles of the age;" that he "is thoroughly and inflexibly honest, and devotedly patriotic;" that "he never supports a principle, nor advocates a cause, which he does not belive to be right," and much more to the same effect; and yet endeavors to make it appear that he is a most unsafe man to follow on public questions. We neither affirm nor deny what is thus said in praise of Mr. GREELEY. But, if the qualities so attributed to him do not qualify a man for leadership, will our contemporary tell us what qualities do?

LAST WINTER Mr. SAMUEL HARPER, M. C. from the Fourth District of Massachusetts, labored to have the duty on foreign coal fixed at fifty cents a ton instead of $1,25. Personal motives were instantly imputed to him. It was charged that he was owner of coal lands in Nova Scotia, and was using his public position, against his party commitments, to promote his individual advantage. In reply to this aspersion, he recently stated: "I never owned, directly or indirectly, any interest in a Nova Scotia coal mine, or in any coal mine or coal field outside of the limits of the United States." That certainly, is sufficiently explicit to silence his accusers. It is, however, a totally different question whether Massachusetts did well or ill in measurably separating herself, on that and other divisions in Congress, from the friends of Protection.

CABLE telegrams announced yesterday that the Cretans had defeated the Turks, notwithstanding the large reinforcements by which they had been strengthened. This is bad for Turkey, for the look now is that she will soon have need of all her forces nearer home. Russia is reported to be gradually but surely encircling those provinces of Turkey adjoining her territories with more than three hundred thousand men. It may be that this disposition of forces was made solely with a view to possible eventualities between France and Prussia, and that immediate rapture between those two powers having been avoided. Russia will withhold the blow it meditated against Turkey. But when preparations have been made, the means clearly found to be adequate, and the occasion ripe for execution, it is difficult to restrain States from consummating their ambitions.

THE DETERMINATION of the Republican Executive Committee to extend the organization of their party throughout the Southern States, is not received with favor by Democrats, either there or here. We did not expect it would be. They want still to be able to allege that the Republican party is sectional; and to monopolize the votes of the blacks. The conception is adapted to their purposes; but it cannot be realized.

In prosecuting the work upon which it has entered the National Committee ought, and doubtless will, exercise a sound judgment in selecting men to represent the party before Southern audiences. It is desirable that in respect to principles and purposes nothing should be concealed. Perfect frankness should be displayed. On the part of the blacks, groundless expectations should not be excited. On the part of the whites, needless prejudices and antipathies should not be engendered. The people of the two sections have common interests, a common country, and are to share a common destiny. The sooner they can be made to understand each other, the better all round. A very few years will work great changes in sentiment and opinion among all classes. The Republican party will take root in the South, and flourish abundantly. It will not be confined mainly to the blacks. Its principles will commend it to the whites; and as present exasperations die out—as die out they will everywhere—ambitious young men, leaving the traditions of their fathers, will identify themselves with the new movement, which embodies and represents the best aspirations of the nineteenth century.

IT will be remembered that Mr. JEFFERSON DAVIS threw JOHN MINOR BOTTS into jail because he would not embark in the rebellion. Speaking of the bailing of Mr. DAVIS, Mr. BOTTS says:

"It is not true that I congratulated Mr. Davis, or that I approached him for that or any other purpose. During the progress of the case I authorized a friend of Mr. Davis to say to Mr. O'Conor that if the name of one known everywhere and to all men as one of the most prominent and determined opponents of the rebellion, the Southern Confederacy, and of Davis's whole course of policy, was desirable as one of his securities, that mine was at his service. The proffer was promptly accepted—not because it was needed, but no doubt from the same generous impulses that had led me to make the offer.

"I did not approach Mr. Davis, nor did I intend to do so, because it was from public, and not personal considerations, that led me to occupy this position; but when I approached the clerk's desk to affix my signature to the bond, Mr. Davis, as was both natural and becoming, approached me to express his acknowledgments for the generosity I had exhibited. I told him that among the considerations that had controlled me was the sacred regard in which I held the liberty of all citizens; that I believed he was entitled to a trial; that the Government had had the most abundant time to prepare for one, and if, after two years' imprisonment, they were still unprepared, I thought he was entitled to his liberation on bail, and I was happy to give this public expression of my opinion on that subject. He replied, "It was a noble sentiment, worthy of a Virginia gentleman as he had always known me to be, and was thankful for it. We separated and did not come in contact again.

"I am not only satisfied with, but am proud of what I have done, and would do it over again and AGAIN and AGAIN under the same circumstances, while I entertain every opinion of Mr. Davis's offense against the Constitution and laws of his country that I have expressed from the beginning of the Rebellion to its close."

Whatever differences of opinion may exist as to the desert of Mr. DAVIS or the ultimate disposition to be made of his case, few minds are so constituted as not to perceive that Mr. BOTTS's conduct in becoming surety for his enemy, was magnanimous.

A CORRECTION.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

PITTSBURGH, FORT WAYNE & CHICAGO RAILROAD COMPANY,
OFFICE OF THE PRES'DENT,
PITTSBURGH, May 21st, 1867.

GENTLEMEN:—I enclose a "clipping" from your journal of this morning, reproduced from the Philadelphia Inquirer, relative to the management of this Company, which is wholly untrue in all its statements, and a gross libel on the Directors and officers of the Company. It is almost unaccountable to us how such a tissue of falsehoods should have found a place in your paper, more especially as the Commercial took the trouble to contradict it in their issue of Saturday last.

Because the Company is a public corporation is no reason why its managers should be assailed in the insolent and contemptible manner of the Inquirer, and I can only assume as a reason for its appearance in your paper that it did not come under your inspection before its insertion. Very respectfully,

THOS. D. MESSLOR,
Ass't President.

Remarks.—If the article enclosed had fallen under the eye of either of the responsible editors of this journal it would certainly have been excluded. No men standing higher, or more deservedly, in the estimation of the public, and particularly of those who enjoy their personal aequaintance, than the gentlemen concerned in the management of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad. We are the more mortified at the appearance of the article aspersing them in our columns, because we not only concur in the general judgment, but have the pleasure of numbering some of them among our personal friends.

We have had occasion to pass over this road repeatedly, and can testify from experience that the trains run with great regularity, and that the employes are courteous and attentive. As for accidents, no road in this country is more free from them. No facts exist to warrant the imputations cast upon it and its management by the Inquirer.

The Effect of Consolidation Upon Suburban Real Estate.

(Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

Many of our citizens are so situated as to be deeply interested in the matter of the proposed consolidation of Pittsburgh upon suburban real estate. I have been repeatedly enquired of how this had operated in Philadelphia. Several persons, owners of real estate thus situated, have expressed fears on these subjects. I am in that predicament, myself. All the real estate in which I am interested is outside of the present city limits and within the proposed extension by consolidation. I, therefore, have taken pains to enquire on this point at Philadelphia. There I have found more fault finders among the residents of the old city than among the owners of real estate in the former suburbs. The large owners of real estate in the old city limits allege that their property for taxable purposes is valued at two or three times what outside property is. Nearly all the owners of the former suburban property admit that their property has been largely increased in value by consolidation, and that as yet their assessed valuation is largely below that in the old city.

The most striking case that came under my observation is that of the Norris estate—within the last year divided amongst the heirs. Joseph Parker Norris, a wealthy merchant of Philadelphia, died something over forty years since, leaving among others two farms containing between three and four hundred acres, situated some three miles north of the State House—in the then county of Philadelphia—afterwards in the district of Kensington, now in the city. This real estate was tied up by his will in a trust that could not be sold, and had to be leased out after the manner of the O'Harra estate in this vicinity. After several acts of the Legislature and decrees of the Supreme Court it was disentangled last year, and the appraisers have just completed a valuation of it preparatory to division among the heirs. Its valuation is a little over $4,000,000. I asked a gentleman of high intelligence, who had been for over forty years connected with this trust what the effect of consolidation had been when the Norris estate—including taxation, valuation, &c. His answer was "that the estate had been benefitted tenfold in value beyond the increase of taxes—that its increase in value during the last thirteen years, since brought within the city had been three fold what it had been during the former thirty years of the trust—in fact of the $4,000,000, at which it had been valued by the appraisers, he had no doubt fully one-half, or $2,000,000 of that value, had been added by the consolidation of that city." Now all real estate in Philadelphia county may not have been so favorably situated as this Norris estate—but on the other hand this has been leasehold property, and could not be permanently improved as if it had been held in fee by its owners.

I also enquired into the rate of taxation in Philadelphia since consolidation. From 1854 to 1861 the rate had not averaged over twenty mills, on two per cent. for all purposes, two-thirds of which rate was assessed upon suburban property marked "Rural" on the Assessor's books. (The same arrangement is to extend to suburban property here by the provisions of the consolidation bill.) The city of Philadelphia increased her debt about $11,000,000 by local bounties and other extraordinary expenditures during the war. The consequence has been that she is now paying forty mills or four per cent. on her assessed valuation, two-thirds of this, or 26 2-3 mills, are upon rural property. This is pretty steep, but not up to what we are paying now on our assessed valuation. In my borough we pay school 15, county 10, borough 10, and county poor, I think, 2, or 37 mills in all, not to include 20 mills for bounty purposes. I presume the millage in either Pittsburgh or Allegheny runs up to pretty near 40 mills exclusive of the bounty tax in each ward. Having spent some days in examining this question in Philadelphia I have given my fellow citizens the result of my observations and, upon the whole, have concluded I had better try consolidation. I hope it may result as it has done in Philadelphia. While everybody there and here growl about the increase of taxation, not one in ten in Philadelphia would vote to return to her old disorganized condition. I there ore think the best thing I can do is to vote and labor for the consolidation of the thirty separate cities, boroughs and townships into one consolidated city. I believe that if this is carried at the October election, and the citizens of consolidated Pittsburgh behave with ordinary wisdom, not one in fifty would ten years hence vote for a return to our present State. AN OUTSIDER.

LEGISLATIVE CORRUPTION.

ONE of the earliest, truest and ablest Republicans in the State—residing on the east side of the Alleghenies—sends us this:

(Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

EDITORS GAZETTE:—I frequently look over the copy of your paper that comes to our local newspaper, and I am so much pleased with the article entitled "Dishonesty in Politics," in the weekly of May 11th, that I desire to express my thanks to you for the service you are rendering the people. It is quite time the Republican press of this State was earnestly engaged in exposing the dishonest practices too common at the State capitol, and inquiring into a remedy. The Republican party will soon be ruined unless the press and people waken up to the danger that threatens us.

My own impression is, that a Convention to reform the Constitution is the only means by which a remedy can be secured.

Local legislation is the great source of corruption, and that can only be prevented by a Constitutional provision requiring all laws to be general.

One-half of all the legislation of the two sessions in which I participated could be more wisely disposed of by the Courts; one-half of the balance might have been as well left to general legislation, and the rest could have been dispensed with without injury to the people.

Truly yours,
FOR HONEST LEGISLATION.

IT is worth while to note how the bailing of Mr. DAVIS is received at the South. The Richmond Whig says:

"The generous course pursued toward Mr. Davis yesterday was one of the most effective reconstruction steps yet taken. It was indeed a stride in that direction. But the legal action taken was not all that we feel called upon to notice. That action was accompanied and embellished by circumstances of courtesy and cordial generosity from Northern and Republican gentlemen of distinction and influence, which will go far to commend them to the grateful consideration of the South. They joined our own Virginians in both bail bonds and congratulations. In so doing, they illustrated their magnanimity, and in one moment leveled barriers that might otherwise have remained for years."

The Lynchburg Virginian says:

"An obstacle in the way of reconstruction has been broken down; and the Federal Court at Richmond did more yesterday towards healing the wounds of the nation and restoring good will and harmony than has ever been done before. We hail the event as an auspicious one, fraught with good, and recognize the present as a fortunate time for both sections of the Union to set out with a new purpose to bury their animosities and meet together on a common ground of justice, peace, and fraternity."

If the people of the South shall generally accept the release of Mr. DAVIS in that spirit who shall say that Mercy and Magnanimity may not win a victory equal to that gained by Courage and Endurance on the battle-field?

A PARIS letter announces that the magnificent palace on the Exposition grounds has been disposed of to a Russian Company, who will after the 1st of November take it to St. Petershurg and rebuild it for exhibition purposes.

THE New York Independent says that the "eminent ability of its first conductors" left it at the end of a dozen years forty thousand dollars in debt.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Ass Goodnue, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhœa, fluor, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of dyspepsia; it is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocation; and instead of sickening, produces a healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5.

Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the dozen, dozen or single bottle, at DR. KEYSER'S Great Medicine store, 100 Wood street. ap29

Keeping a Disorderly House and Selling Liquor Without License.—Jane Morrison made information yesterday before Alderman Lynch, charging Johnny Wails, Mag McWilliams, Maria Ziegler and Catharine Foreman, with keeping a disorderly house. The said house is an old raft, of which we made mention two or three weeks ago, and lies at the foot of O'Hara street, on the Allegheny wharf. She also made information against Wails for selling liquor without license. Warrants were issued for their arrest.

Watch Recovered.—A silver watch, stolen from Thomas Verner, of the Fifth ward, more than a year ago, was discovered a few days since at a jeweler's establishment, where it had been left by one Arnold Galbreath for repair. Upon his arrest, on a charge of larceny, Galbreath proved that he had purchased the watch of Cimiotti, pawnbroker, and he was therefore discharged. The pawnbroker did not remember from whom he had obtained the watch.

Six Car Loads of Oil took fire a few days ago whilst the train was passing down the mountain, near Kittanning Point, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, and about two hundred barrels were destroyed, also about one-eighth of a mile of the track. The oil is supposed to have become ignited by a spark from the locomotive. The flame illuminated the valley between the Allegheny and Brush mountains, presenting a scene of magnificent grandeur.

Colonel Miller's Carriage House, at Port Perry, was struck by lightning on the 18th of August last and was consumed. It had no rods. His large barn, which stood only a couple of rods distant, was not injured, possessing as it did, the very best possible protection in the Copper Tubular Lightning Rod with Spiral Flanges, manufactured in this city by Lockhart & Co.

In our notice of the fire in Duquesne Borough, in yesterday's GAZETTE, we made an error in stating that the house of the Hope Fire Company, of Allegheny City, was very defective. The Hope Company have a perfect set of Hose, and are at all times in condition to render efficient service.

Released from Jail.—D. J. Link, of Allegheny, whose arrest we noticed a few days ago, charged with attempt to outrage his daughter, was released yesterday on giving bail for his appearance to answer the charge at court.

Larceny.—Alderman Lindsay, of the Sixth ward, yesterday committed to jail one Edward Rodgers, charged on oath of Joseph Gothill, with larceny. The accused was afterwards released on giving bail.

Charged With Robbery.—Wm. Messick was yesterday committed to jail, charged, on oath of Eli Wicof, with attempt to rob Matthew Harbison, of South Pittsburgh.

Concentrated Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla

Eradicates ERUPTIVE and ULCERATIVE DISEASES of the THROAT, NOSE, EYES, EYELIDS, SCALP and SKIN,

Which to disfigure the appearance, PURGING the evil effects of mercury and removing all taints, the remnants of DISEASES, hereditary or otherwise, and is taken by ADULTS and CHILDREN with perfect safety.

TWO TABLE SPOONFULS of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system to awaken, and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

Heavy shipments of gold to Europe to adjust balances there, keeps up the premium and fully neutralizes the favorable political status in Europe. Nevertheless, the present advance, however slight it may be, is due to the working of the clique who hold the gold available for speculative purposes. Government securities are strong again on the gold tendency, while weak and dull on Seven Thirties of the later issues. Railroad shares are firmer, but no marked advanse is noticeable; few shares of the larger roads are held as permanent investments, but were bought by operators in the street, and then carried on margins. Money is easier on call loans, but firm for commercial paper, and is likely to be so during this month, and the first half of June.

—In the Supreme Court of the United States it seems to have been settled that United States notes of the precise number of dollars contracted to be paid for in gold will settle a debt incurred before the suspension of specie payments in January, 1861. The suit of Thompson against Riggs, just decided at Washington, was to recover a joint deposit. The defendant was discharged upon the payment of an equal amount in Treasury notes. A special contract to repay in gold was not proven in the case before the court, although it was assumed that such was the custom when gold deposits wer made.

—A dispatch from Baltimore says:

The suspension of the extensive commission house here of William Crichton & Son, caused considerable sensation, and rumors of other failures, some of which, however, have yet transpired, but there is a good deal of uneasiness, nevertheless. William Crichton, the senior partner, was one of our most active and enterprising merchants, and was for a long time President of the Corn and Flour Exchange, a member of the Board of Trade, and was generally foremost in leading enterprises of every kind. He did a large South Carolina trade, and his philanthropic sympathies induced him, doubtless, to extend long credits. He was also unfortunate in stock speculations. He hopes to be enabled to resume again.

—The New York Times gives the following particulars of the New Orleans embezzlement troubles:

The deficit in the Assistant Treasurer's accounts was $1,100,000, as the 1st day of April the United States Treasurer, General Spinner, ordered the Assistant Treasurer, Mr. Whittaker, to visit every time the government deposited funds in the New Orleans, and transfer each day to the Sub-Treasury all Government deposits in excess of the amount of security in the Treasury. He also notified the banks to the same effect, and that he should continue the drafts on them as usual. The object of this was not to disturb any former mode of doing business with them, but to have the additional safeguard that there should ever be in any depository bank more funds than are secured in the Treasury even for a single day. The result was that the relations of the banks with the Treasury are all right, and the deficit, where it was least expected, in the Sub-Treasury.

An examination of Mr. Whitaker's account now shows that he has certified to Treasurer Spinner, since the receipt of his instructions of April 1, that he had transferred from the depository banks to the Sub-Treasury something less than half a million. Assuming, therefore, which is probably the fact, that he never in reality transferred this money, but charged himself with it on his own books, in order to accommodate the banks, there is still remaining $600,000 of money which Mr. Whitaker has absolutely loaned from the Treasury, and in so doing has, possibly without criminal intent, committed a grave crime, the penalties for which under the Sub-Treasury act are very severe.

Private advices from New Orleans to day represent that city in considerable financial commotion, and that Mr. May and his friends, who are pledged to the Assistant Treasurer, will be able to save the Government harmless from the loss. The First National bank of Louisiana has $250,000 in bonds on deposit here as security for Government funds in its keeping, and the Louisiana National Bank has $150,000 for the same purpose. It has been stated that Congressman Oakes Ames, of Massachusetts, is a sufferer in this matter. The only way in which he is connected with it is his having certain drafts on him unaccepted were found among the collaterals deposited by Mr. May in the Sub-Treasury.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, May 21, 1867.

The general markets continue very quiet and dull, and the indications for any immediate improvement are by no means encouraging.

GRAIN—No movement in Wheat. Corn is panicky and unsettled, with a drooping tendency; prime Yellow cannot fairly be quoted above $1, and even at that there are but few buyers. Oats in demand and 65 cts is offered, delivered at elevator; sale of 65 sacks, on wharf, at 63. Rye is in demand, and may be fairly quoted at $1.67 to $1.70. No movement in Barley; prime Spring would command $1.15.

FLOUR—Is a little dull but prices remain unchanged, so yet. We continue to quote at $15 to $15.50 for good to choice Spring Wheat; $16 to $17 for Winter Wheat, and $19 to $20 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is selling in store, at $9.50 to $10.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is steady, with regular jobbing sales at previous quotations. We continue to quote at 9½c to 9¾c for Shoulders; 11½c to 12¼c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 13¼ to 15½c for Plain Sugar Cured Hams; 16½c for Canvassed do. Lard 13 to 13½c; Dried Beef, 22½@23; and Mess Pork, $23.00 to $23.50.

HAY—Prime baled Hay is in good demand, while common and inferior is hard to sell at any price. The former is selling in store at $26 to $28.

BUTTER—Is dull with a supply largely in excess of the demand. Prime to choice Roll selling at 16 to 18c.

EGGS—No falling off in the demand, and with comparatively light arrivals, prices are firm, and fresh packed sell readily at 19 cts.

POTATOES—Scarce and firm but unchanged. Prime Peach Blows are selling in store at $3.25 per bbl. Buckeyes may be quoted at $3.50 to $3.75.

CHEESE—The demand is improving, and new Western Reserve selling at 15 to 16c, as to quality.

DRIED FRUIT—Is quiet and dull but unchanged; small sales at 5@5½c for Apples, and 12½c to 13c for Peaches.

GREEN APPLES—Scarce and higher, sales having been made to-day at $10 per barrel.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, May 21, 1867.

CRUDE—The boat race seemed to be the chief centre of attraction to-day to oil dealers, and for the time being, business was looked upon as a secondary matter. So far as we could learn, there was not a single operation, and while the market is dull, prices remain unchanged at 9½c, cash or option. Mr. Conant's circular, dated at Titusville, May 18, reports "market dull and 10@15c per bbl lower. There is a disposition manifested on the creek to unfilled, the owners of which are confident of being able to fill at $2, or under." This circular also puts the production of oil in Western Pennsylvania at seven thousand and five hundred barrels, which, if correct, shows a large falling off.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was very quiet to-day, notwithstanding there were rumors of it having improved slightly. We could not report a sale of 1000 bbls standard white, for July delivery in Philadelphia, at 28½; and 500 barrels spot oil, prime light straw, at 30½c; while for free oil there is little or no demand, and prices are nominally unchanged.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, May 21, 1867.

CATTLE.

There was again a very good supply of cattle on sale this week, upwards of forty car loads, of which thirty were car loads were from Chicago. The market compared with last week, was rather tame, though there were but a very few left over unsold, and prices were not quotably lower; still that buoyancy and activity which characterize a good market were wanting, and buyers took hold slowly and gingerly, the butchers, as they have good reason to, are doing considerable growling, though it cannot be said that four drivers take any undue advantages, as cattle are relatively as high in Chicago as they are here. Beef and Flours now the most expensive articles in the market, and it is to be most sincerely hoped that the days of famine prices are very near at an end. Nothing of any importance sold at from 5½ to 9½ gross, and stockers may be quoted at 6½ to 7½—one drove of extra reported at 8.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The supply of Sheep was not large, but the the market, nevertheless, was a hard one, and, anything, compared with last week, prices ruled a shade lower. Good to extra fat sheep may be quoted at 6½ to 7¾, and common at 5¾ to 6¼. Katz & Co. received having sold a mixed drove of 150 head at 5 to 6½, and Rynd & Co. sold 50 head of pretty good fat sheep at 7. Lambs in good supply and dull and lower—may be quoted at $2 to $4 per head.

HOGS.

The demand for this class of stock continues very light, and while the market is dull and neglected, prices have undergone no quotable change. In a retail way, quotations may be fairly given at 7 to 8c. The butchers bought very sparingly this week, which may be attributed to the fact that as the season gets warmer, the demand for fresh pork falls off.

REPORTED SALES OF CATTLE.

Wm. Werner sold 15 head of mixed Ohio cattle at 6 to 8½. John Kerwin sold 16 head of prime still-fed cattle, averaging about 1500, to Greenwald & Rahn, at 9@9½, and 7 tailed 16 head, same grade, at 9@9½. Hazlewood & Blackstock sold 45 head at 8½ to 9½ —8 head left over. J. C. Dolan sold 17 head of prime fat steers to Shamberg, averaging 1225, at 9, and retailed 17 head at 8¾ to 9¾. McAllister to Carr 20 head at 9 to 9½. Mason & Trautman sold 19 head at 8½ to 9¾, and 31 head of extra stockers at 8. Greenwald & Kahn sold 34 head of medium steers, averaging 1166, to Wagner, for Baltimore market, at 8½; retailed 90 head at 8¾ to 9¾. RIVER NEWS.

The river has undergone but little change since the date of our last report, but there is every appearance of another rise, as the weather continues wet and unsettled. The Allegheny marks indicate about seven and a half feet, while those of the Monongahela only show about six feet three inches.

The Argosy got in from Cincinnati last night with an excellent trip, and she will return as usual to-day at noon. The Kate Putnam also arrived with a very good trip, having among other items a considerable amount of iron ore.

The Lorena, for St. Louis, and the Julia No. 2, for Cincinnati and Louisville, constitute the departures. The Julia took on some fifty tons of metal at the point, which put her guards pretty well down in the water.

Th Glendale, Capt. J. H. Hare, is now in turn for St. Louis, and will be the first boat out. Captain James Melton still retains charge of the office.

The Argosy, Capt. Vandergrift, is the regular packet for Cincinnati to-day, leaving promptly at noon.

The Bellevernon and Columbia left St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Saturday last.

The Memphis Avalanche, of Friday, says: The Great Republic passed down last evening for New Orleans with 2400 tons of freight; she added to her large freight list here fifty-seven bales cotton; cleared at eight p. m. with the largest cargo that ever steamed down the great Father of Waters on one bottom. She will leave New Orleans on Wednesday next and leave here on Saturday at five p. m. for St. Louis.

From Yankton, Dakota, we have the following news of mountain boats: The Yorktown passed that point on the 29th of April; the Huntsville passed on the 3d inst.; the Mountaineer, with 200 passengers, passed that point on the 3d inst.; the Guidon on the 5d inst.

The Ida Rees was announced to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Monday, and the Belle was advertised for Tuesday. The Argosy arrived at St. Louis on Sunday last. The Sherman, enroute for Pittsburgh, with a good trip, including one hundred and fifty tons of iron ore, was at Evansville on Sunday, and Cairo the same day on her way to New Orleans.

The Memphis Courier, in speaking of the recent strike of the colored levee hands at New Orleans says: Southern people, so far as practicable, should refuse to employ negroes in any capacity. They have proved to be compelled to emigrate North among their equals.

The Dubuque, recently damaged by the Rock Island Bridge to the extent of $10,000, has received applications for insurance in eight Pittsburgh offices, which, of course, will be compelled to stand the loss.

The Ruth picked up a snag above Memphis while on her way up last Wednesday night, which snag succeeded in inducting little damage, which, we believe, only to the boat's guards.

The Advance No. 2, Capt. Lancaster, en route to Terre Haute, with a large amount of iron for Brandies & Crawford, struck a snag a few miles below her destination, on Monday, and sank in five feet above her mate.

The T. J. Blackfoot was sold at St. Louis, on Thursday, by the sheriff, to Mr. Wood, for the sum of $4,500. The boat is now lying in the hands of the United States Marshal, and will probably have to be sold again, unless the boat purchaser comes down with the dust and pays off her liabilities.

The St. Louis and Miami packet Clara, on her hasty trip up and down the Upper Bend a short distance above Grow Rock, picked up a snag which broke down the starboard water-wheel beam. Temporary repairs were made, and the boat enabled to continue her trip.

The Memphis Avalanche of Thursday says the Belle Memphis and Grand Duke will not leave this port this morning, within a few hours of each other for New Orleans. Great interest is experienced in the respective speed of both, which will be a delightful feature to be observed is that two such superb boats should be brought together and leave port at the same time. They are the ornaments of Western enterprise and skill, and merit the attention which is so lavishly bestowed upon them.

At four o'clock on the morning of the 18th as the Tempest was passing Seven-mile Island, a short distance above Clarksville, a loud noise was heard, as if caused by a snag and sunk. The crew worked upon it for about thirty hours, and had partially succeeded in extricating her from the snag when a gale struck in from five to six feet of water. It had two thousand bushels of coal, and all the running cars. Parties have been sent to raise it, and the work will be accomplished in a few days.

The steamer Denver, plying the Mississippi between Cairo and the Illinois Central rail and St. Joseph Railroad Company, burned at the latter point on Wednesday morning. The loss is put down at $50,000, though the machinery may be recovered in a damaged condition. The Denver was built at New Albany, Indiana; valued at $40,000, and insured in the different offices for $25,000. She had only been in port a few minutes, and her crew were hoeing coal car by car, and shoveling it into the boat, took fire and was a mass of flames almost in a flash.

Capt. Jones, of the Louisville, offered laborers fifty cents an hour, at Evansville, to go below Henderson and load his boat, and to bring them back. They refused to go for that price, but would have gone for fifty cents per hour, and did not agree to bring them back. He paid all for fulfilling their contract, and refused to employ five or six who refused to take pay unless they were returned to Evansville. They were returned to Evansville. The Louisville Courier-Journal, in commenting on the case, says: Southern people, so far as practicable, should refuse to employ negroes in any capacity. Even when they can be compelled to emigrate North among their equals.

The following boats were in port at Cincinnati on Sunday: Westmoreland, Pine Grove, Lorena, Spitzenberg, New York, Starlight, Ezra Porter, Wanamita, Arabadilla, Ida Rees, Melnotte, Shamrock, Tabledquah, Lavinia, Rumsey, Ada Rose, Newsboy, Silver Spray, Leonidas, Amazon, Anglo-Saxon, Clifton, Emerald, Darling, Wild Duck, Emma Floyd, W. F. Curtis, Magnolia, Major Anderson.
